

Cochrane Collaboration (Cochrane)

International

Cochrane is a global, independent, non-profit network of health researchers and professionals, patients and carers who work together to produce and promote trusted, high-quality health information that improves health and healthcare worldwide.

<https://www.cochrane.org/>

Link to recommendations: <https://doi.org/10.1002/14651858.CD006728>,

<https://doi.org/10.1002/14651858.CD007142>.pub2,

<https://doi.org/10.1002/14651858.CD006525>.pub2,

<https://doi.org/10.1002/14651858.CD008704>.pub2,

<https://doi.org/10.1002/14651858.CD008696>.pub2,

<https://doi.org/10.1002/14651858.CD008705>.pub2,

<https://doi.org/10.1002/14651858.CD004188>.pub3,

<https://doi.org/10.1002/14651858.CD010558>.pub2,

<https://doi.org/10.1002/14651858.CD012855>.pub2,

<https://doi.org/10.1002/14651858.CD013305>.pub2

Table*Treatments recommended by Cochrane according to their empirical support*

Strong	Relaxation techniques
Moderate	-
Weak/Controversial	Behavioural activation therapy ^{b, c, d} , Cognitive-behavioural therapy, Couples therapy ^{6, 7} , Family therapy
Insufficient	Acceptance and commitment therapy, Competitive memory training, Family therapy ^c , Prolonged behavioural activation
No evidence assessment	-
First line	-