

Indian Psychiatry Society (IPS)

India

The IPS is the principal professional association representing psychiatrists in India. It promotes excellence in psychiatric practice, education, research, advocacy, and mental health policy. It has been publishing systematically developed patient care strategies for effective clinical decision making and delivery of care since 2005. These guidelines are intended for managing clinical situations that psychiatrists generally encounter in practice.

<https://indianpsychiatricsociety.org/>

Link to recommendations: <https://indianpsychiatricsociety.org/clinical-practice-guidelines-for-the-management-of-depression/>

Table

Recommended treatments by IPS according to their empirical support

Strong	-
Moderated	-
Weak/Controversial	-
Insufficient	-
No evidence assessment	Behavioural therapy ^{6, 7} , Cognitive-behavioural therapy ^{1, 2, 3, 6, 7} , Couples therapy ^{6, 7} , Family therapy ^{6, 7} , Interpersonal psychotherapy ^{1, 2, 3, 6, 7} , Psychoeducation ^{6, 7} , Short psychodynamic therapy ^{6, 7} , Supportive therapy ^{6, 7}
First line	-