

Schweizerische Gesellschaft für Psychiatrie und Psychotherapie (SGPP, Swiss Society for Psychiatry and Psychotherapy)

Switzerland

The SGPP is the national society of psychiatrists practicing in Switzerland. It develops therapeutic and other recommendations for psychiatric and psychotherapeutic work, which helps to ensure the quality of care and to take into account new developments in an appropriate manner. Treatment recommendations are based on current scientific knowledge and procedures that have proven effective in practice. Where appropriate, they are based on internationally recognized guidelines.
