

Canadian Network form Mood and Anxiety Treatments (CANMAT)

Canada

The BAP represents the largest association of mental health professionals in Bangladesh and works on promoting ethical and evidence-based psychiatric practice, health advocacy, policy formulation and medical research in the field of mental health. It has developed several guidelines for the management of mental disorders.

<https://www.canmat.org/>

Link to recommendations: <https://doi.org/10.1177/07067437241245384>

Table*Recommended treatments by CANMAT according to their empirical support*

Strong	Behavioural activation ¹ , Cognitive behavioural analysis system of psychotherapy ³ , Cognitive-behavioural therapy ^{b, 1, 3} , Guided internet cognitive-behavioural therapy ^{6+, 7+} , Internet cognitive-behavioural therapy ^{6, 7+} , Interpersonal psychotherapy ^{1, 3} , Mindfulness-based cognitive therapy ^{1, 3} , Problem-solving therapy ³
Moderated	Acceptance and commitment therapy ^{a, c, 1} , Cognitive behavioural analysis system of psychotherapy, Cognitive-behavioural therapy for insomnia ⁺ , Group cognitive-behavioural therapy ¹ , Guided internet cognitive-behavioural therapy ⁶ , Internet behavioural activation ^{6+, 7+} , Internet cognitive-behavioural therapy ^{1, 6, 6+, 7+} , Long-term psychodynamic psychotherapy, Metacognitive therapy, Mindfulness-based cognitive therapy, Problem-solving therapy, Psychodynamic therapy ¹⁺ , Self-directed digital health interventions ^{6, 6+, 7+} , Short-term psychodynamic psychotherapy, Telephone/digitally delivered cognitive-behavioural therapy, Transdiagnostic psychological treatment of emotional disorders,
Weak/Controversial	Motivational interviewing
Insufficient	Chatbots and conversational agents
No evidence assessment	-
First line	Behavioural activation ¹ , Cognitive-behavioural therapy ^{b, 1, 3} , Interpersonal psychotherapy ^{1, 3}